THE LANDS ON THE ABOVE-NAMED ASSOCIATION are situated in San Francisco and are eligibly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society on which College buildings are to be at once erected The site is less than thirty minutes ride from Montgomery street by rail just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore and has a soil of extreme richness So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon.

The Rev E Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L Robinson formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas B Lewis, formerly of Portland, Secretary

Four lots, 25x120 feet each, constitute a share costing $225—paid in monthly instalments of $10 each, after the first payment of $50 has been made

Address of Speaker Colfax."

NEW YORK May 6.—Speaker Colfax delivered his lecture this evening at Irvine Hall After the lecture he was given a grand reception by the Union League Club being introduced by President Jay of that Association as the Speaker of a Congress the history of which was second only to that of the Continental Congress

In response, Mr Colfax thanked the League for the compliment after referring to the events of the past six years He said that six years ago slavery held millions in bondage but to-day found human auction blocks manacles and whipping posts things of the past, and the slave became a citizen with the ballot in his hand; He referred to the acts of the 39th Congress, which rebuking the ill-advised policy of the Executive whose ambition seemed to be to destroy the party which elevated him to power, passed the constitutional amendment and the military reconstruction bill organizing the ballot box to all loyal men regardless of race or color, disfranchising for the present the leaders of the rebellion and laying down the terms on which their forfeited rights could be resumed This devotion to principle and this firmness has its fruits in the alacrity which characterizes the action of the majority in the Southern States in adopting them These laws having been passed over the veto of the executive the great Union party has become responsible for their faithful performance, and its honor would be tarnished if he did not stand by them He regretted that Summer's amendment requiring universal education did not prevail One of the essentials of the reconstruction policy is the election of Congressmen who can honestly take the prescribed oath and who have been faithful and worthy He referred in burning words to the treatment received by the Unionists of the South during the war, and said they were the men to lead back their States to their Union

After eulogizing the Republican party, he closed as follows This nation of freemen must remain firm to the traditions of the fathers in sympathising with all who long for the maintenance and advancement of liberty, whether in Mexico, England or Crete yet avoiding entangling alliances, with the recognition from ocean to ocean, from north and south alike, of the right of all citizens for whom the choice of their laws is made Our centennial anniversary of independence will find us an entire nation, enjoying a fame as wide as the world, and as eternal as the stars, with a prospect of surpassing the future in all the brightest glories of the past.

The Labor Movement.

CHICAGO, May 6 —No further disturbances occurred today It is ascertained beyond much doubt, that the fire on Friday night was also the work of an incendiary, who is believed to be one of the dissatisfied eight hour men

The total losses by fire in Chicago on the 3d and 4th, were nearly $800,000 A large meeting of working men denounced mob violence and published an appeal to the eight hour men counselling the observance of law and order and declaring that the final success of the eight hour principle is certain

At St. Louis a meeting of workmen received a report from the master mechanics taking strong grounds against the workingmen's movement.

A slight disturbance occurred at Peoria Illinois, of a nature similar to the riots here. All is quiet in other places though there is considerable excitement

At Cambridge yesterday the miners who are on a strike burned the principal portion of the town Loss, over $100,000.

The funeral of the firemen who were killed on Friday night took place to day. It was one of the most imposing processions ever seen in the city

CHICAGO May 7 —All disturbances in the city have been quelled Everything is quiet Most of the manufacturing establishments are running again in some cases with a short complement of hands Very few employers have acquiesced in the eight hour system and in every case they pay only for the work done There is no difficulty in procuring hands, as many have come to the city from the East Several manufacturers prefer to give all hands a little more time for recreation and pay in proportion to work It is the upshot of the whole matter may be briefly stated The eight hour law has accomplished nothing Many workmen still hold out, but no increase of wages for the shortened time is likely to result

CHICAGO, May 8.—Little change is reported in the condition of the eight hour revolution Many more are resuming work, but the strikers still hold meetings and assert their determination to hold out to the last Many establishments are running with reduced forces with the probability of obtaining all the men necessary in a few days The strikers have organized a committee and ordered to intercept and turn back the workmen coming from other cities

Dr Livingstone Again.

NEW YORK May 6 —Sir Roderick Murchison has letters from Zanzibar two months later than the alleged murder of Livingstone, but saying nothing of the massacre Murchison insists that an expedition should be sent to solve the mystery

Telegraph in China.

NEW YORK May 6 —Dr McGowan who left here last fall for China to build a telegraph, failed to enlist Government sympathy or aid, though supported by the strongest recommendations from foreign representatives It was said the Chinese would destroy the wires and the Government would not protect them The enterprise was abandoned The company purchased a cable in London to connect the coast cities. McGowan is now at Yokahama The Japanese favor his plans and a cable will be laid from Yokahama to Jeddo.

The Japanese Ambassadors.

NEW YORK May 6 —The Herald says the object of the Japanese visit is reported to be to obtain advice as to the best means of defence against iron-clads and also to settle with Thurlow Weed and his contractors, who undertook to furnish several ships The Japanese failed to receive the ships, only one being sent and that was a failure.

From New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS May 6.—The new Board of Levee Commissioners appointed by Sheridan consist of Effingham Lawrence ex-parish Police principe I H Oglesby of New Orleans, J Burnside of Assumption, W D Smith of Jefferson, and W L McMillen of Carroll

The negroes attempted to take possession of the Rampart street cars, appropriated to ladies and children, and refused to use the cars appropriated to themselves This caused a riot which was suppressed On Saturday the negroes attempted to force an entrance at the French Opera House on an equality with the whites Owing to the temporary reduction of the police force the disturbances are frequent

At 11 o'clock to-night the levee occurred last night 13 miles above the city, and the flood is threatening the Algiers and Opelousas Railroad

NEW ORLEANS, May 7 —The Chief of Police forbids interference with the negroes on the street cars.

A hurricane on Sunday burst the banks of the river below the city The damage is not ascertained The steamer Young America went ashore and her cargo of cattle was lost

The Kentucky Election

CINCINNATI May 7 —The Kentucky election returns indicate the election of all the Democratic candidates for Congress

Working Men's Meeting at St Louis

A meeting of working men was held at St Louis last night The old trouble and resolutions counselled moderation, but insisted upon a strict enforcement of the eight hour system Most of the workmen avowed their willingness to accept reduced wages for the eight hour work A riotous demonstration of laborers at a place opposite St. Louis was prevented by the zealous efforts of the more intelligent mechanics

There was quite a fall of snow to-day Damage to fruit is feared

Official Map of Russian America

The Tribune's special says the official map completed for the Department of State at the Coast Survey office gives Seward a purchase a more attractive aspect We are assured that the whole course of the Kvichpiak and its affluents, lies through immense forests of the choicest pine

Relief for the Southern Destitute

The Tribune's special says that the Secretary of War issued a circular to the agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, for the distribution of supplies. It orders that relief shall be given to the very destitute at the rate of one bushel of corn and eight pounds of meat per month to each adult and one-half of that quantity to each child under fourteen years This issue will be discontinued when the vegetables and fruits appear

The oath of allegiance will be administered to local agents when necessary.

The Strife for Party Power

The statement is often made, and usually put in the form of a terrible accusation, that the sole object of the party in power is to maintain its ascendency and that it cares nothing for the welfare of the country if it can only perpetuate its own rule What is there in this accusation to entitle it to the prominence that is given it Why should it be so continually hammered upon by the opponents of the Union Republican party? A very little examination will show how feeble it is as an argument Nobody ever heard of a successful party that did not desire to retain power in its hands That is a phenomenon which has never yet been witnessed In a popular government there must always be parties The people are always, practically governed by the party in power Between the parties there is a continual rivalry for the possession and control of the government No party ever yet voluntarily relinquished its power, nor ever will The party which is now struggling so desperately to regain ascendency did not give up without a contest the power it had long wielded It put forth every effort to prevent the reins from slipping from its hands All its efforts during the whole period of its ascendency were directed to the one object of preserving its power Every public measure was dictated by this paramount consideration This was the object of its purchases and conquests of territory, of its sentimental efforts to extend the area of slavery, of its policy in opposing internal improvements and a protective tariff A desire to make more Democratic States led to the repeal of the great compromise of 1820, and the attempt to bring all the Western Territories under proslavery Democratic domination. No party ever worked so unscrupulously for the perpetuity of its power. This fact finally became so notorious that the people would sustain the party no longer And this party is now striving with all its might to recover its lost estate The party in power is naturally anxious to preserve the future of the Union in its hands. Hence arises the contest now going on Such a contest is unavoidable in a popular government That the Union Republican party desires success for the future is not surprising Nobody will deny that its purpose is to retain possession of the Government. Nobody doubts that it desires to perpetuate its power. It would be a strange thing if it did not. It would be equally strange if it did not adopt such measures as it deems best calculated to secure that end If it errs in its judgment,—if its measures are unacceptable to a majority of the people,—it must give up the Government to its opponents This is the way in which the errors of parties are to be corrected To allege as one of the great faults of a party that it desires to continue its existence, and that it shapes its policy on this principle, is not a very severe accusation.

Spirit of the Eastern Press

The extraordinary spectacle presented by the ex rebels in their affiliations with the negro population since the reconstruction act went into operation, evokes very general comment from the eastern press! The change that has been wrought in the conduct of the whites toward the blacks is shrewdly caricatured in Harper's Weekly of April 6th. The engraving represents an interview between Wade Hampton and "an influential colored voter;" the former presenting the knightly appearance of a genuine Southerner, booted, spurred, and a slave-whip half concealed in his dress, and the latter wearing passably good clothes, and a look which signifies that he has some knowledge of his "rights." Hampton says to the voter "Of course you will dine with me on Thursday?" Voter responds "Not on Thursday, Mass Hampton, on Thursday I'se promised to sleep with Mass Pinckney." This scene is evidently several degrees nearer to the truth than to extravagant burlesque, and very aptly illustrates the new order of things now prevailing in the South The New York Herald remarks upon the change that has been effected by the reconstruction act

Does history afford another instance approximating to that great change typified by the lying down together of the lion and lamb? Allowing that there may be a mixture of the fiery with the lion like element in the demonstration still it presents a phenomenon of the most remarkable character, and one calculated to exert a great influence upon the times If the aristocracy of South Carolina can be induced to take this course of fraternization with the negro it may well be attempted in all other parts of the South. After this, too, President Johnson and his Cabinet may very properly forego all further efforts to intimidate Congress and the North with the alleged terrors of negro equality at the South We have heard from the South, and the latter is not there. Finally, what becomes of the old stock in trade of our Northern Democrats? While they are fighting in Connecticut and elsewhere against negro suffrage Wade Hampton and his friends in South Carolina are begging for negro votes! Truly, among all the strange developments of the times this is one of the strangest the most significant, and, we may add, the most suspicious

The Boston Journal remarks on the same subject

We cannot help reading the accounts of that happy fraternization meeting, at Columbia, South Carolina, with increasing wonder and delight. Now, in fact, is the big bear of the 'Africanization of the South, slain in the house of its friends That war of races, which we have heard for years predicted with such ingenious solemnity, turns out to be only a race for votes If Dr Russell were to travel again through the Southern States he would hear no more about that natural inferiority drawn from the genealogy of Ham and the curvature of the skin bone. The magical qualities of the ballot have annihilated all these absurdities of a slavish era transforming chattels into freemen, "redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled"

The bill filed by Mississippi in the Supreme Court praying for an injunction to prevent the execution of the reconstruction law is published in full, together with the very lengthy arguments of Messrs Sharkey and Walker in support of it The New York Herald thus summarizes the whole proceeding

Reduced to plain English Messrs Sharkey and Walker's argument amounts to this that the war against the Union by Mississippi and her confederate States, under a foreign government for four long years, involving the sacrifice of three hundred and fifty thousand Union soldiers and officers to disarm the hostile militia was only 'a temporary disorganization,' or nothing more constitutionally considered, than an election riot; that the insurgent league of States in being disarmed were restored to 'the constitution as it was'" and to their rights as they were before the war and that since the surrender of their rebel armies, the acts of every Congress from which said States have been excluded are unconstitutional, null and void; that, in short, under the constitution two States or ten States, or more may, under a foreign government, fight to destroy the Union for four years or twenty years, and on finding that the Union is too strong for them, they may fall back upon their constitutional rights and return to the Union just as if nothing had happened and with nothing to pay

The New York Times learns that Southern industry is reviving, and thinks that the prospects for a renewal of prosperity are quite hopeful

This year according to our reports of what is now going on in numberless localities in the Southern States productive industry will be far in advance of what it has at any time for six years past. And, unless the army officers in command manage very badly the military law under which the South has just been placed will have but little affect on its reviving industrial activities The orders issued by the various Generals show there is no disposition on their part to interfere in any way with the course of ordinary affairs or the daily pursuits of the people And it is evident, on the other side, that the people cannot now be violently shaken by the changes of political. If there were any probability of Thad. Stevens' confiscation scheme becoming law it would unquestionably throw everything into confusion for years to come. But the conception which that outrageous chemist sent from Congress and the country, must have given assurance to all concerned that it need not enter in any way into their calculations about the future. There is proof that if does not for there could be no such application to plant land and farming as we hear of in all the States if they felt there were a chance that they would be despoiled of the property thus acquired.

The Philadelphia North American makes a telling point against the President a last veto

Taking into consideration the amount of time and care bestowed in this bill upon the work of registration and the precautions by which a full and fair vote is insured it is tolerably cool in President Johnson to treat this bill as an outrage upon popular rights when the sort of an election he had sanctioned in Tennessee in 1864 was such that Congress refused to count the electoral vote of the State notwithstanding that he was our candidate for Vice President The disfranchisement established and indeed origin ated by himself in Tennessee far exceeded what is provided for in it is Act, and if this policy of disfranchisement be now so odious as he would have us believe, he must thank himself for it.

The Tribune has an earnest article on our Indian affairs, and argues in favor of a change in their management

Let some three eighty honest and widely known Eastern man be placed at the head of Indian Affairs No Western man should be appointed Not that there is no honest Western man but they are all more or less connected with land or railway speculations or have represented constituencies whose interests Nothing but the name of a first class man can guarantee the needed reforms Only a man of the highest character can face and overthrow the ring of plunderers and contractors

The Tribune's suggestions about getting rid of a "horde of Indian contractors" are worthy of notice The operations against the Indians on the plains have turned the attention of this crowd of plunderers in that direction and the public money is wasted by millions through their rapacity But the Tribune is evidently disposed to hold the whites accountable for all the difficulties with the Indians Western people, it complains, are hostile to Indian interests If these Eastern philanthropists would inquire a little into the case, they might possibly discover that Western people are hostile to the untamed savages because they know something about them

The proposition to give women the right of suffrage is exciting general discussion at the East The Philadelphia Press in the course of an article written in favor of the proposition says

The relief of the poor of prisoners, of sufferers of all kinds is at present in a great measure in the hands of women as city editors well know They it is who collect funds for hospitals who aid the poor who maintain sewing and union benevolent societies and carry out most of the practical Christianity of the day Therefore it is argued—and as it seems to us justly—If women would vote, can be led to realize their power to reform they would incline to introduce charitable and humane reforms A lady who passes her life in working and collecting, for a certain charity will when she finds that she and others have the power very soon call in the aid of legislation to sustain it, or will at least look about and see if her influence cannot be made to aid in charity and works of kindness It seems, in fact that all women vote a kinder and more ameliorating spirit would pervade our legislation and the atrocious cruelties which are now almost encouraged by trifling penalties be earnestly repressed in every manner

The following is a Washington dispatch of April 29th The story it tells of the President's views and intentions is extremely doubtful, but we give it for what it is worth

The Herald's special says it was stated to day by a distinguished Senator that Mr Johnson sincerely regrets that any Southern State has been so unwise as to attempt to restrain the enforcement of the Reconstruction act by injunction, and it is even said that so determined is the President to carry out the measures, even should injunctions issue from the Supreme Court that he would disregard them The same Senator anticipates that by the meeting of Congress in next December the Southern States will be ready for admission, and the great problem of reconstruction will be solved, or at least very near its solution

TENNESSEE STATED —The Atlanta (Ga) Era, a paper which may be supposed to be competent to speak on the subject, makes a terse statement of the origin of the late conflict "It was a transfer of cardinal political doctrines from the forum of debate to the arena of battle The political harvest was at hand and we went out to reap the fruits of Jeffersonian Democracy" This is both candid and clear These men ought to know why they rebelled

On motion notice for improvement of Alder street by grading, broken stone foundation and clean gravel (except where Alder crosses First street) and by side-walks as prayed for was ordered to be published

A communication was received from Mrs Schulbein, (formerly Mrs Ehinger,) representing that she had paid W F Burke the sum of $153 75 for laying side walk in front of two lots on B street that said lots are now advertised to be sold for street assessments delinquent for the amount of $153 75 and asking that the said sum of $153 75 be deducted from the assessments against such lots. The following bills were allowed and ordered to be paid; Bancroft & Rosenblatt for rent of Council Chamber to May 1st, $70 Oregon Herald for advertising, $36 25.

PROPOSITIONS AND MOTIONS

On motion of Mr McCraken, the petition of Mrs Schulbeis, was taken from the table and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Marshal was directed to defer the sale of her property for the time being

Mr Lownsdale offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Auditor to place the delinquent tax-roll with his rents for the collection of delinquent taxes in the hands of the Marshal

Mr. Lownsdale gave notice that at the next meeting he would submit a motion to place in the hands of the Marshal, warrants for the collection of assessments for street improvement at the junction of Front and Jefferson

Mr Lownsdale raised a query as to the meaning of the record of last week's proceedings upon the matter of order for publication of notice for improvement of Second street, between Morrison and Madison, and asked for the ruling of the Chair

A long discussion on the effect of certain parliamentary proceedings ensued, in which it seemed impossible for the members to understand each other, or to agree precisely as to what is parliamentary law in certain things. The whole matter was finally left as when Mr Lownsdale made the query, and the Council adjourned.

A FIRE AT PORTLAND.—Two attempts were yesterday morning made to fire buildings in this city, both of which, fortunately, failed. At about twenty minutes past three, Mr Wilberell, carrier for the OREGONIAN, while passing the corner of Oak and Second street, discovered the north west corner of the Oro Fino Hall building on fire. He ran to the spot and tried to rouse the occupant of an adjoining building. Failing in that, and having no means of procuring water he gathered up a small of papers lying near, and with them succeeded in putting out the flames which had not yet obtained much headway An examination of the premises showed that the fire was the work of an incendiary; that the weather boards had been saturated with kerosene oil and then fired with a match, about three feet from the ground. The bottle in which the inceudiary had brought the oil was picked up near the place A wad of paper, partly burned lay against the wall in another place. The opportune arrival of Mr Witherell and his prompt action, saved the building and block In a very few moments more, the fire would have been so far advanced as to make the saving of the block impossible He hastened one hand in extinguishing the flames, but not severely. At about the same hour a Chinese watchman in the establishment of Ye Loung, on Alder street, discovered a fire in a wood shed in the rear of the Lura saloon, corner of Alder and Second. It had been set in a pile of fine split fire wood, against the woodshed wall which stands almost touching a vacant dwelling house on Second street, belonging to Mr T J Holmes The fire had a very great start in the wood pile and was attacking the wall when discovered The watchman above referred to ran through the rear passage with water, and extinguished the flames. The two attempts to fire the city, occurring simultaneously, indicate the presence of confederated scoundrels for whose capture police and private detectives should keep a vigilant look out. No clue to the perpetrator of either attempt has been discovered, so far as we know

FOR RUSSIAN AMERICA —The Sacramento Union says "Captain McGilvray, formerly recruiting officer in Sacramento, and recently of Washington Territory, is at present spending a few days in the city on a visit. It is rumored that he will soon sail from San Francisco for Russian America. A regiment of soldiers is about to be sent there by the Government to raise the stars and stripes over our new territory and to hold possession of it. General Steel, now of Fort Vancouver, will probably have command of the expedition, and Captain McGilvray will be one the accompanying officers

RECORDER'S COURT —Yesterday, Wm. Smith, colored, had an examination on the charge of selling liquor to Indians, and was held to answer in the sum of $100 Kelloge was charged with disorderly conduct at a house on Second street; hearing continued till this morning Mrs. Caroline Fanory was the complainant Kellogg preferred a counter charge against Mrs Emery, for an assault and battery, which was also continued till this morning.

A NEW STABLE.—Messrs Ellis & Co, finding their present accommodations too limited, have leased grounds on the southwest corner of Stark and Second streets and have begun a building fifty by one hundred feet, to be used as a stable and Barn

PASSED AN EXAMINATION —A letter from San Francisco May 3d, says Lieut Wm. Kapus had passed an examination by the Military Board, and is under orders for the West as Sisters He will sail for New York on the steamer of the 10th

EDITORIAL CALL.—Mr H G Struve, of the Vancouver Register, called on us yesterday afternoon He represents the political canvass in his Territory as going on actively and with fair prospects for the success of the Union ticket

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19, 1867

The Connecticut election has given the President a crumb of comfort, and he is rolling the sweet morsel under his tongue. It is not strange that he should enjoy it, for he has had nothing like it in any loyal State since he deserted his party friends and went over, or back, to the Copperhead Democracy. He is naturally a little stiff in the joints over his victory. The Radicals are sore over their defeat, although it was not unexpected. Two or three weeks before the election it was known that the result was in great doubt. Not less than 1,500 Irish voters were qualified in the month of March, all of whom undoubtedly voted for English. Then, too, it is well known that a vast amount of money was used in the election. English spent a vast amount, and the Democratic merchants of New York added largely to the sum. So plenty was the "English money" that in little towns attempts were made to buy votes, an extraordinary thing outside of cities in Connecticut. The nomination of Barnum, the showman, in the Fourth Congressional District, had a very bad effect. That District might have been saved with a popular man running on the Republican ticket. As it was, Barnum ran behind Hawley's vote and hurt the State ticket. Hawley, it will be remembered, had only 500 majority last spring. Senator Dixon has many personal friends in Connecticut, in spite of his desertion of his party, and he has been steadily and successfully at work for months to accomplish this result. He had only to change three or four hundred votes to change the politics of the State. The question of negro suffrage entered into the canvass to a certain extent, and as is well known Connecticut is very narrow and backward on this subject. To make matters bad as they could be, Senator Sumner three or four days before the election announced in the Senate his purpose to press a Universal Suffrage bill—enforcing manhood suffrage in all the States—loyal as well as disloyal. This was trumpeted through the State by the Democratic newspapers and voters and had its effect. In point of fact, Sumner's bill cannot pass, as a majority of the Senate, as well as the House, believe it to be unconstitutional. But the flourish of drums was made as if on purpose to aid English. The result of the election has very little moral significance, but it will tend to make the Republicans cautious.

Senators Conness and Williams sail by the steamer that carries this letter to the Pacific coast. The Chronicle of this city, speaks very handsomely of Mr. Williams. Among other things it says:

Coming into the Senate at the closing night of the Thirty-Ninth Congress, on the 4th of March, 1865, he has become identified with those important civil measures which have been so essential to the preservation of our military triumphs. There has been no more laborious and few abler public servants than Senator Williams, and his votes and speeches exhibit not simply political fidelity, but rare judgment and great research. As a member of the Reconstruction committee of fifteen he labored with unceasing assiduity, and it stands to his credit that the principle, and almost the language of the great act of military reconstruction upon which all our difficulties bid fair to be permanently adjusted, was suggested by himself. The necessity of holding the Pacific States to the great Republican party has never been more vital than at the present time, and our political friends in that far-off region have cause to be congratulated upon the fact that, for the first time since the beginning of the rebellion, California and Oregon are represented by united Radical delegations in both Houses. Mr. Williams will be able to present such an account of his stewardship to his people and such a record of the great Congress with which he has been identified as cannot fail to give them peculiar satisfaction, and to strengthen them for the Presidential election.

To all of which I, who have watched Mr. William's course very closely, can say "amen."

The news coming in from all parts of the South shows that is going to accept the Reconstruction Act in good faith. The movement for an injunction before the Supreme Court will fail, and it does not meet with the approval of the leading men of the South. They are sick of delay and want to get back into Congress on almost any terms, and have this quarrel composed. Senator Wilson went to Richmond the other day and made a speech and was warmly welcomed. It is proposed that Republican speakers shall stump the South before the fall elections. Senator Wilson predicts that if the South is "reconstructed," so that she can participate in the Presidential election, the electoral vote of more than one State that went into the rebellion will be given to the Republican candidates. With good management this prediction will prove correct.

The President feels badly over the condition of the South. He perceives the general disposition to accept the terms offered by Congress and doesn't know what to desire. So far as Congress is concerned, he would like to have its propositions trampled in the dust; but he fears that if the South does that it will enable the Republicans to demand still harder terms, and perhaps obtain them. He is at a loss what to do. He sent his attorney—Stanbery—into the Supreme Court the other day to oppose the injunction movement, and this is generally regarded as a favorable indication. It looks as if the President had fully made up his mind to thoroughly execute the Reconstruction Act and was not anxious to have it opposed at this time, in an irregular manner.

The Russian Treaty project took the Senate and the country very much by surprise, and at first nearly everybody said: "Let it be rejected—what use have we for the Russian Possessions?" It was considered absolutely certain that the Conservative Committee on Foreign Relations, with Mr. Sumner as its Chairman, would report against it. If a vote had been taken in the Senate within three days of the time the President sent in the treaty, it would not have received a dozen votes. But day by day the project gained ground—one could scarcely say why. The arguments adduced in favor of the treaty were not important. On the contrary, they were frivolous, but in spite of that fact it steadily progressed. It soon became known that Wade was for it, then Senator Wilson was for it, and so on one after another Radical Senator came out for it. On Monday at noon the Committee on Foreign Relations reported the treaty back, with a recommendation that it be agreed to. Under the circumstances this was a great victory for the project—with such men as Sumner and Fessenden leading it. Its principal strength consisted in the fact that Republicans were afraid that if rejected that it would help the Democratic party. As I close to catch steamer, the Senate has not decided finally upon its fate, but outside the Chamber there seems to be no doubt of its adoption.

It is agreed on all sides that there is no prospect of a summer session. The prominent Senators are making their arrangements not to come back here till December. There is just at present a prospect that they will be kept here for some time on Executive business, but when they finish that they will prefer to remain at home till next winter. The Judiciary Committee of the House will resume its investigations of the conduct of the President early in May, and there are some Radicals who expect that it will report impeachment articles, or be ready to do so, in July. I do not expect that result, and even if it should, the Senate would not come here in mid-summer to try the President. A majority of the Committee is made up of cautious men, and they will be guided rather by what is expedient than by the facts. If they regard it as inexpedient to impeach Mr. Johnson he will not be impeached. A morning paper says Mr. Conness and Mr. Williams return home early so that they can come back for a summer session, and it fast expecting a summer session. This is a total mistake. They expect nothing of the sort as I understand from their own lips; but they will be prepared for an emergency, no doubt, and if there is a lengthy summer session they can arrive here before any important business is transacted.

STEAMER DAY.

P. S.—Since the above was written, the Senate has agreed to the Russian Treaty, with only two dissenting votes. The result shows how popular it was in that body. The heavy majority was owing greatly to the arguments used by the Pacific Senators. When such men as Williams, Corbett and Conness urged the Republicans of the Atlantic States to vote for it on the ground that it was regarded as a great measure by the people of the Pacific States, it was impossible to resist. Seward's advocacy of the measure hurt rather than helped the project. When Congress comes together again, the $7,200,000 needed will be promptly appropriated. S. D.

PLAIN TALK.—Ex-Rebel Sommes, editor of the Memphis Bulletin, concludes an article on the "Labor Question" as follows:

We could scour the pine woods of Mississippi and Alabama to-morrow, and drive before us hundreds and thousands of active, stalwart young white laborers, who are wasting their time in utter and entire idleness, because they are too proud or too lazy to work. Many of the families to which these young vagabonds belong are almost in a starving condition, some of them being the actual recipients of charity from the Freedmen's Bureau."

The Kansas State Legislature has adopted an amendment which strikes the words "white" and "male" from the State Constitution, and makes intelligence the basis of suffrage.

Lady Franklin, widow of the celebrated navigator, has arrived in Rome.

FROM MONTANA.

From the Montana Post of April 13th we glean the following:

A large meeting was held at Virginia City on the evening of April 12th, to consider the Indian question and adopt measures for the protection of the Territory. Major John P. Bruce was called to the chair, and H. Cummings appointed Secretary. The President stated the object of the meeting. Gen. Meagher, Mayor Gastner, Judges Lovell and Hosmer, and others, addressed the meeting, presenting their views upon the subject, and pledging themselves to give their most earnest support and assistance, in money and in person, to protect our valleys from the desolation and massacres of the Indians. The following, among other resolutions, were adopted:

WHEREAS It is currently reported that hostile Indians are threatening to the east Gallatin valley, by massacreing its inhabitants, and laying waste their habitations, therefore be it

Resolved, That to this end we organize one or more volunteer companies and immediately place them on as good a war footing as possible, to be held in readiness to march, when called upon, to the aid of those threatened in any portion of our Territory.

Resolved That his Excellency Gov Meagher be, and he is hereby requested to telegraph to the Government at Washington for authority to raise and equip a regiment of volunteers, to serve against hostile Indians in the Territory of Montana, until relieved by the regular forces of the United States.

Resolved, That we heartily acknowledge our indebtedness, as citizens of Montana Territory, to Mr Kirby, of Saunock, for his tender of arms and ammunition, for services against hostile Indians, and recognize in his act, the true spirit, and say to all others, go and do likewise.

Resolved, That at Virginia City an armory or depot be organized at once for the reception of arms and ammunition that may be tendered or forwarded for our defense.

In addition to the other measures instituted in regard to the Indian movement, Gen. Meagher has authorized Capt. Martin Beum, a thoroughly tried and gallant young officer of the war, to superintend the recruiting and organization of volunteers. His headquarters will be at the Executive office. The confidence reposed in this officer, who has already entered upon his duties with the heartiest alacrity and energy, is demonstrated by the fact that some fifty or sixty soldier boys have pledged him their services.

A terrible case of crime has just come to light in Nevada, Montana. A brother and sister named David and Margaret Smith have been living as man and wife, and the woman has had no less than two children, who were probably murdered and buried under the house. Their remains were found and the parties confessed their guilt. The Post says: Her written confession reveals the astounding fact that she was even more culpable than her brother. On Tuesday they were brought into court and pleaded guilty to the charge of incest. They were remanded to prison until ten o'clock yesterday, when they were again brought into the court-room, which was densely crowded, when Chief Justice Hosmer addressed and sentenced them to 10 years imprisonment. The prisoners did not seem to manifest any concern in the matter—were stolid, apparently unimpressed and indifferent to their fate. The sympathies of every hearer was in entire consonance with the sentence and remarks of Judge Hosmer. In concluding a report of this case, it is but justice to the Vigilantes to say, that but for their exertions this crime would not have been foretold out, and the parties punished. They arrested them, worked up the case in the face of many difficulties, and when fully matured submitted it to the civil authorities.

The past week has been pregnant with deaths from gunshot wounds. First, was the accidental shooting of McGee; next the suicide of Allen; and now we have to recite a shooting affray over a ranch on Monday, which will probably result in the death of one of the participants. The particulars, as we gather them, are as follows: Page and Hall, the names of the parties, owned a ranch together in the vicinity of Indian creek, but, not being able to agree dissolved partnership. This proceeding was not satisfactory, and during Page's absence from the ranch, Hall went and took possession of the cabin. On the return of the former, high words ensued between the parties and Hall drew his revolver and fired at Page: the latter also opened fire and succeeded in hitting his antagonist twice—once in the abdomen and once in the forehead, the last, however, being a glancing shot. Up to the present we have been unable to learn what has been done with Page or the extent of Hall's injury.

A sad and fatal accident, resulting from the accidental discharge of a rifle, occurred at Helena, April 10th, under somewhat strange and peculiar circumstances. Jimmy McGee, the person shot, had come to town in the forenoon, with a load of coal, and when on his return put a loaded rifle in his wagon. When opposite the mouth of Ore Pine gulch, the rifle, from some cause or another, went off, the ball striking him on the left side of the back, in the region of the sixth rib, and ranging down, lodging in the right hip. He survived about 12 hours after he was shot, and experienced but little pain.

For the past day or two a rumor has been current on our streets to the effect that Bozeman City had been captured by the Indians, and that a general exodus from the valley of the Gallatin was going on in consequence. We know not what credence to place in the report, but as a general thing the story is not believed by the best informed in matters pertaining to the locality. That such a deplorable occurrence is liable to take place at any time, no one doubts. The valley is so unprotected that it could be swept from one end to the other before assistance could reach it either from this point or Virginia.

The origin of Shakespeare's Sonnets is before the public again. A singular letter in The Athenæum, signed Philarete Chasles, Mazarinaeus, supposes them to have been scattered pieces written at the instance of Southampton, carelessly kept for Shakespeare and given by him to his wife's brother, William Hathaway, who published the collection with the assistance of Thomas Hathaway, whose initials appear at the corner of the dedication. The dedication is parodied by the commentator, who dedicates his letter to Mr. Massey.

TAXES IN MAINE.—The amount of the State tax assessed in Maine for the present year is $967,201 32. This tax, in addition to the poll tax of one cent, is a tax of five and one-fourth mills on the dollar of the present valuation for the current disbursements of the treasury, and of three-fourths of a mill on the dollar of the valuation established as a basis for the sinking fund created by the Act of January, 1865. This, however, does not cover all the appropriations. The Bangor Whig and Courier says that the entire appropriations amount to $1,600,576 66.

At a lecture on "The English Bible" by Mr. Dale, delivered at Boston, the lecturer exhibited two valuable and curious relics, viz: a copy of Tindal's Bible, which had been in the Antrobus family for above three hundred years; and a copy of the "Breeches Bible," which was formerly the property of the Rev. John Wesley, was saved from the fire at Epworth, at the same time that Wesley was rescued, and was given by him to his niece, who was great-grandmother of the wife of the lecturer.

THE PAIN KILLER.—Rev T Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, says: "Within the past four years I have used and dispensed of about five hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send me a fresh supply as soon as you can—say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasion to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Kyzato, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On examination, I found I had been bitten by a centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than an hour I was again asleep."

Rev Mr Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says "I have used Davis' Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success. We always keep it where we can lay our hands on it in the dark, if need be." ap20dto
